CASE STUDY

Sharp manufacturing reduces admin time and support HR processes with Kelio's combined Time and Attendance and HR System!

Commentary by Natalie Williams, HR and Payroll Officer at Sharp, Wrexham

Sharp installed Kelio's X4 and X7 terminals at their manufacturing site in Wrexham. All of the 150 staff on site use the clocking in fobs with Kelio's combined Time and Attendance and HR systems. Having previously installed separate Time and Attendance and HR systems, Sharp are delighted with a solution that combines both.

Choosing software options with the HR Portal, absence management, staff administration, annual leave request, and time and attendance has supported independence for the large team as well as reduced admin for HR management.

Impressed with Kelio's functionalities, Natalie reports, "A huge benefit is that the old systems didn't reliably communicate with each other and there were time delays. Kelio's system works in real time, which is great for allowing staff to book their own absence. Previously, we used paper forms, causing a lot of work. The clocking terminals are reliable and accurate for extracting data."

Having previously only worked off-line, all of the staff have quickly adapted to using the system and it is running smoothly for the company. The training process allowed Sharp time to configure the system exactly as they needed it, following their rules. "The training and the Technical team's expertise was excellent," praised Natalie.

Sharp are pleased with how user-friendly the whole system is. In the future, they are keen to add more to the portal to enable staff to increase their independence and reduce further admin needed for the HR department.
