Haven't got a design? We can help

Not only does a long-lasting, well-fitted and high quality work uniform boost staff morale and motivation, but it also gives your customers the assurance you're the right team for the job.

Our graphic designers are here to take away the 'don't know where to start' feeling. Based on your current branding, we'll create a workwear design to perfectly match your corporate image.

If you need it, we'll give you your design work in digital format to use in your marketing, free of charge.

Embroidery or print?

Available with printed or embroidered finish, our full range of affordable workwear products can be ordered online in just a few clicks!

Embroidery

Logo embroidery has always been the traditional method of applying a logo. It provides a great texture to the logo and also provides a long lasting finish that you can't achieve with printing. Embroidery comes with a once off set up charge for each logo, as this requires a specialised process and format the machines can read.

Heat Press

Heat press is usually for logos that are in one colour and can use a stock vinyl that is heat pressed onto the garments. The vinyl isn't limited to solid colour, it is also available in glitter, animal print, hologram and reflective style effects.

Digital Print

Growing in popularity, digital printing is a more accessible way to print complex logos with many colours or fades/gradients, without the set up costs or required minimum runs associated with screen printing.
