Coffee Break Connections

Driving creativity one sip at a time

In the hustle of the modern workplace, taking a break can feel like a luxury, but stepping away from your desk for a coffee break is essential for both your mind and your productivity.

Positive Work Environment

Research has shown that regular breaks can improve concentration and reduce fatigue, but the social aspect of coffee breaks goes even further. A quick chat with a coworker over a cup of coffee can reduce stress, enhance team bonding, and spark new ways of thinking.

Reignite Focus

These micro-interactions offer a chance to step back from the daily grind, allowing ideas to brew and creativity to flow. Whether you're discussing a new project or simply sharing a moment of laughter, these breaks can reignite your focus and foster a more innovative and collaborative work environment.

More than just a Break

Next time you feel drained, take a coffee break. You might just find that a few sips of caffeine and a conversation are the keys to driving creativity and connection at work.

Introducing Truestart

Founded in Bristol by Helena and Simon back in 2015. Truestart was created with the mission to create the first caffeine regulated coffee after discovering that the caffeine levels in coffee can vary wildly.

Truestart are also certified carbon negative which they achieve through calculating their carbon output, reducing carbon output within their production process & investing in projects that offset 120% of their carbon emissions.
