What are Hotel Systems for?

With guests demanding the best service available, hotels and resorts need more efficient ways of meeting those demands.

Our pagers and communications equipment enable hotels and resorts improve communication between staff and guests.

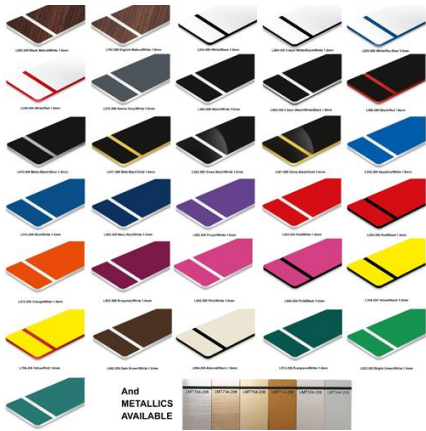

Your hotel or resort can achieve a higher level of customer service with LRS equipment's paging system.

LRS Call Buttons

The new designer deluxe call button is perfect for high end restaurants, Hotels, bars and other quality venues. Customers can easily recall staff for service or help instantly, without the trouble of having to look for staff.

Available in a range of colours (as shown on the colour table) and options, the call button can be completely customised to your needs, from the casing to the actual button itself...you are now able to brand your call button in ways you never realised before.

Highest quality materials have been used throughout and these call buttons work with LRS pagers. Unlike other call buttons on the market, these designer buttons can use our range extenders and other optional equipment for a full compliment of high end features. Ask us for more details.

Hotel - Emergency Call Points

Our emergency call points and call buttons are used throughout the UK for health & safety and first aid solutions.

These emergency systems have been used over and over again here in the UK with great success.

The emergency call buttons can be wall mounted onto boards that allow the user to press the button of the department that they are requesting.

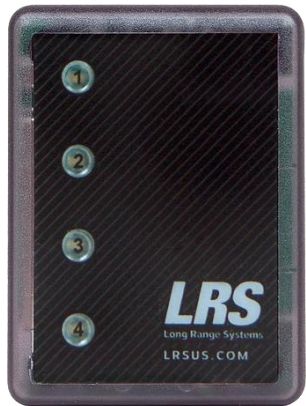

There are plans to include the LRS Pronto call button to produce valuable data that can report when the call button was pressed and exactly how long it took for someone to respond to the call.

It would also be possible for example to see via a report which calls were downgraded to stand down calls and which ones remained high level emergencies.

Staff Pagers

LRS equipment features paging equipment that can establish a higher level of customer service throughout your hotel or resort. This can improve customer service in the areas where it matters most.

Staff pagers are essential to keep staff communicating while working together. Staff can be contacted no matter where in the building they may be. Improve your staff performances and create a better work flow with staff paging systems.

Our staff pagers will improve communication between your staff, decrease response time, and increase efficiency. Better communication equals better business. Immediately notify housekeeping, maintenance, front desk or concierge staff with our paging and communication solutions.

LRS UK Transmitters

LRS premium transmitter with embedded SMS mobile phone messaging.

LRS T7470 Freedom transmitter can be Internet-connected and serves as the central hub that facilitates paging of LRS pagers, texting to customer mobile phones, and data collection for online reporting. When placed into Guest mode, the Connect Transmitter records times between service intervals vs. operational goals, offering insights into true service, delivery, or wait times.

LRS' Guest Transmitter for customer paging systems

The T9560MT is a multiuse multi purpose transmitter often used as a backup in restaurants, but actually used as a main transmitter for most other businesses. It can be used as a mobile guest or customer paging transmitter as part of an overall solution for your business from LRS.

A low cost but high in features, its a very popular unit without the usual limitations of competitive equipment. There is a rechargeable battery included so the unit can be battery powered or used as a mains powered unit if required. Battery life is typically at least eight hours from a single charge of eight hours.

Hotel – Two way radios

Deliver exceptional service and create a safe environment for your staff with two way radio solutions. In hotels, great team collaboration is essential while running a business.

Within large hotels its important that staff can communicate with each other no matter where they are in the budling.

With a two-way radio, staff can instantly call for help, management, other staff, or security without any delay. Instant communication across the whole building/site.
