High Level Cleaning & Maintenance

Streamlined High-Rise Cleaning Solutions for Your Business

In the world of high-rise building maintenance and atria cleanliness, there's no room for compromise on health and safety. You deserve the assurance that your reputation remains intact, and your exposure to risk is minimised. When seeking a high-level cleaning partner, consider these vital factors:

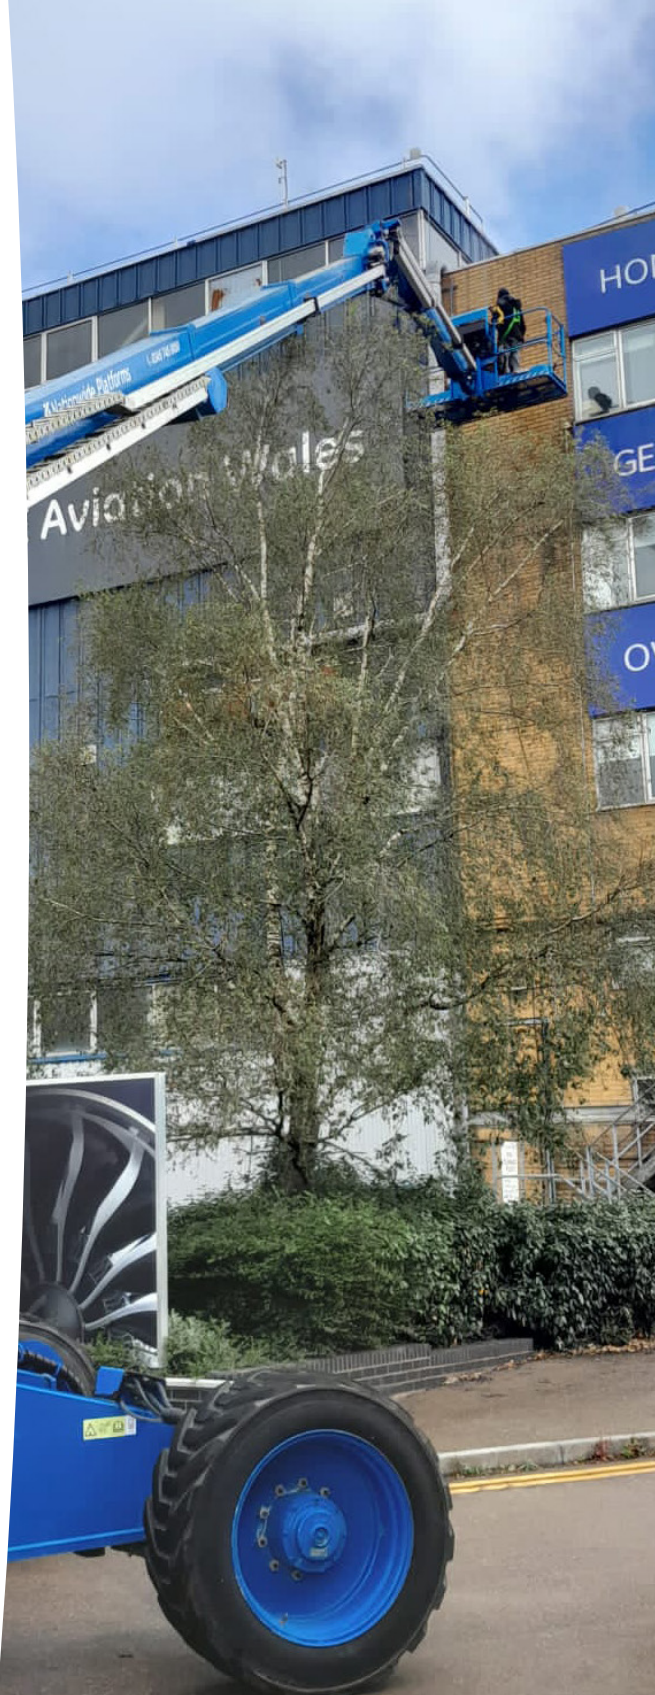

Skilled and Experienced Team:

Your chosen contractor should offer a highly trained, experienced team with appropriate qualifications. This is a specialised field where expertise matters. Look for professionals comfortable with specialised equipment like BMUs (Building Maintenance Units), SAE (Suspended Access Equipment), or harness and rope access when needed. Depending on your building's unique characteristics, a combination of equipment may be required for efficient and safe cleaning. Practical experience and knowledge are non-negotiable.

Safety as Priority:

Safe working practices are non-negotiable, especially in high-level projects. A detailed Risk Assessment and Method Statement are essential. Working at height requires the right skills and training. Our staff and partners are fully harness-trained, ensuring the correct selection and inspection of harnesses and lanyards, in full compliance with the Working at Height Act. They also hold IRATA and IPAF licenses, recognised internationally for safe MEWPS (Mobile Elevating Work Platforms) usage. Additionally, we possess PASMA qualifications for the safe erection, inspection, and use of scaffold towers and podiums.

HIGH LEVEL CLEANING

Tailored Services for Every Need:

Dealing with multiple contractors due to diverse building requirements is cumbersome. Look for a partner offering a flexible range of services to address all situations seamlessly.

Our extensive experience, including projects like the Admiral Insurance Headquarters, Cardiff City Stadium, One Central Square, GE Aviation, Clayton, IBIS, Hilton and Premier Inn Hotels and 6 & 7 Central Square housing The HSE and HMRC in Cardiff's Business Quarter, demonstrates our commitment to excellence. When you choose us, you're selecting a partner dedicated to your high-rise cleaning needs, with a focus on safety, expertise, and convenience.

CCWC have become a valued contractor to call on for a variety of tasks. CCWC have supplied specialist plant and trained operators to our sites Nationwide, to carry out work that other contractors may have struggled with. The work is always well planned and of high quality, with a good level of communication throughout.
