

AOV MAINTENANCE

Automatic Opening Vent Maintenance, Supply & Installation

Automatic Opening Vent (AOV) systems play a vital role in controlling smoke during a fire, channelling it away from escape routes and improving conditions for occupants and emergency responders. OCD FM provides a comprehensive AOV maintenance, repair, supply and installation service for all property types.

What We Do

Our engineers carry out regular inspection and testing of your AOV systems, ensuring all components control panels, actuators, sensors and vents are functioning correctly and in line with current standards.

We service and repair all major AOV systems and can source and replace components where required to restore systems to full operational status.

For new installations, we design and install AOV systems meeting current Building Regulations and British Standards, integrating with the building's overall fire strategy.

Following every service visit a comprehensive report is provided detailing system condition, defects found and recommended actions.

Key Benefits

- Regular inspection and testing keeps your AOV system compliant and operational
- Servicing, repairs and component replacement all available
- New AOV system design and installation to Building Regulations and BS standards
- Detailed post-visit reports provided after every service
