Vacuum Tankers & Liquid Waste Removal

Our vacuum tanker units are designed for cleaning a large variety of objects from your drainage system.

From liquid waste, to more solid deposits such as sludge or debris, our tankers will clear out sewers, gully's, pump pits & ACO drains to name a few.

We understand the importance of disposing of your waste in line with regulations from the relevant organisations.

We ensure that waste is transported to a trusted liquid waste disposal facility. For hazardous waste, we provide a follow up consignment note from the Environment Agency.

Pipe Repairs: Drain Lining

When carrying out a CCTV survey, we may uncover a range of issues that can affect your drainage system:

- Cracks in pipework
- Leaking pipes (water coming both in & out)
- Structural weakness (due to age or damage)
- Wear & tear

Drain lining restores the structural integrity of pipes & provides a smooth & watertight surface. Not only does this significantly extend the lifespan of the pipe, it prevents more serious & costly issues that may have required excavation.

Pipe Repairs: Excavations

If after an initial site assessment & CCTV survey, it is determined that an in-situ repair cannot take place, our expert building team can carefully carry out an excavation (to an insured depth of 6m) to restore the drainage system to full working condition.

We have a commitment to precision, safety & minimal disruption with our excavation works that resolve a wide range of complex issues.

Upon completion, final inspections will be carried out & appropriate documentation will be shared (including a follow up CCTV survey).

“These guys are top class. Recommended to us by one of our landlords, after some horrific experiences with other companies in the industry, they came, did the job and their charge was very reasonable. + they are good decent people (hard to get by these days)! I can't recommend them highly enough.”

Josef, Greater London

“I had an ongoing issue with my bathroom for 6 months and no other contractors could resolve it. Dave and Omary from Burch Drainage were able to resolve the issue in one visit. I am very happy with the quality of their service and impressed by their expertise. Would highly recommend!”

Aleena, Greater London

“Prompt service and very professional workforce. Completely satisfied with the service and would definitely recommend.”

Dennis, Greater London

“Burch provided a first class service and solved some very difficult problems for us that others could not manage.”
