Our Safe System Of Work Is Yours

Our Safe System Of Work Is Yours is proven through Best Practice Systems of work that we deploy in the provision of our sub-contract service.

Turner Access Contracts Division supply the System Scaffolding on a full contracting basis; including everything from initial site survey and risk assessment, design and method preparation, through to on-site assembly and dismantling.

Best Practice Systems of work are achieved by the use of "collective protection" measures in FULL compliance of the Work at Height Regulations 2005 (6.3).

This in essence ensures your compliance under those, and other Statutory Regulations, not least Construction Design Management (CDM) Regulations, which makes both Client and Main Contractor responsible for the work practices of their sub-contractors and/or those directly employed under them.

Each contract undertaken is carried out professionally, safely and efficiently by our fully trained personnel. Quick assembly and dismantling speeds are essential prerequisites for any successful contracts service. Not only does it allow a quick turnaround for any project but, perhaps more importantly for competitive tendering, ensures that costs are kept to a minimum.

Turner Access Contracts Division also offers fully certified training programmes to cover erection and dismantling, and design and engineering consultancy to meet the most demanding specification.

The UNIQUE benefits of the Turner's Scaffold System, when backed by our full Contract Scaffolding package, are the ideal solution for all your access needs, while ensuring that all duty holders are not exposed to the risk of criminal or civil litigation in the event of an accident.

Safety is paramount. From the selection of the most appropriate equipment, to the safe methods of erection and training of personnel, our drive towards providing safer systems of work is part of the Turner Access' culture and company values.
