

OFFICE RECYCLING SOLUTIONS

It's an alarming statistic that UK businesses alone are estimated to produce in excess of 68 million tonnes of waste each year. According to the Environment Agency, less than 45% of this waste is recycled and millions of tonnes will go straight to landfill.

WHY RECYCLE

Your Profitability

Commercial Waste disposal can cost UK businesses up to 5% of turnover, and with Landfill Tax on top of transport and disposal charges, this cost escalates every year. Therefore, by implementing a comprehensive recycling programme, you could save a significant amount of money, both now and in the future, as your "waste" will not attract Landfill Tax and your disposal costs will be reduced.

Your Legal Obligations

"Producer Responsibility" is a key principle in today's commercial environment, and many businesses are now legally obliged to achieve recycling targets set by legislation such as the Landfill Directive, the Packaging Waste Regulations 2005 and the WEEE Directive which came into force in 2007.

Environment

Recycling will not only help your environmental credentials, it is also an excellent way of promoting your business as a sustainable provider. Increasingly, buyers are looking at a company's environmental and ethical strategy before making purchasing decisions.

REPORTING

As well as documents such as waste transfer notes and recycling certificates, we also provide full and detailed management reports for you to monitor your recycling performance on a regular basis.

CLOSED LOOP

Our services are designed to help our customers improve their environmental performance by ensuring that once shredded, all paper waste is recycled. Not only this, we also offer our customers a 'Closed Loop' recycling service for all paper destroyed.

Closed Loop Recycling describes the system where recyclable material is converted into a new recycled product and that product is then reused at the location from where it was first collected. Paper can account for 60-80% of the total waste produced by a typical office according to WRAP (Waste & Resources Action Programme). We collect, shred and bale the paper, which will be sent to a mill for conversion back into paper products. This paper can then be procured by your company to complete the Closed Loop system.

The overall process is easy, cost effective and great for your environmental performance. Your staff will be much more likely to get involved in your recycling initiatives if they can see a usable product being made out of their waste paper.
