

PHARMACEUTICAL WASTE

Pharmaceutical waste can be highly hazardous and infectious so disposing of these wastes, in accordance with current legislation can be complex and confusing. UK organisations have faced a sharp increase in the demand to be more environmentally aware in recent years, with pressure coming from both official sources and consumers.

Environmental legislation, financial pressures and public opinion are all forcing businesses to become much more accountable for the volumes of waste and pollutants they produce, and for the environmental damage their commercial operations may cause.

PHS Wastemanagement specialises in the safe and legally-compliant management of pharmaceutical wastes. We believe in simplifying the complex and time consuming nature of waste management, providing an easy to use service for all types of difficult to manage wastes.

Our experience, coverage and commitment to the highest environmental and legislative standards make us the perfect partner for your pharmaceutical waste disposal needs.

Our team takes pride in its knowledge of the waste management and recycling industry and is always available to offer advice regarding current and forthcoming waste legislation.

At PHS Wastemanagement, we understand that when we handle your waste, we're also entrusted with your reputation and your safety. Your waste is our responsibility and we pride ourselves on offering only the most cost-effective, legally compliant and environmentally sound solutions.
