Life: Learning in fun environments making Life an

adventure

TigerTurf believes that children should have the opportunity to learn in fun environments. TigerTurf Life is a concept designed specifically for primary school playgrounds, offering essential experiences for health, well-being and development.

Improving the delivery of sports and P.E.

Tennis, football, hockey and netball are all traditional sports delivered in schools. Life uses multi-coloured markings to differentiate the areas for each sport, making it easier for the teacher to deliver the lesson while increasing the enjoyment for the children taking part.

Inspiring school and community pride

Giving the children the ability to contribute to the design, empowers the pupils and gives them a sense of pride and ownership of the outdoor space. The school's logo can be incorporated, projecting the school's values into the community.

Creating break and dinner-time fun

Outside the structured learning timetable it's important for children to enjoy social interaction and physical games in a protective, welcoming environment. Playtimes are transformed into informal P.E. lessons with fun games to play alongside friendship and calming areas.

Enhancing the experience for all

Whether it's phonics boards incorporated into the surface or inbuilt markings to manage classes, the Life concept offers as much to the teachers as it does to the children. TigerTurf even reduces the noise levels during playtimes and P.E. lessons so directions can be clearly understood.

Working closely with schools, TigerTurf creates a better, happier place to learn and grow. Can you really put a value on delivering this rich, multi-sensory and stimulating environment?

"The children are absolutely astounded by the new surface. They have been running up and down the running track and just can't wait to get out and play whatever the weather. In fact, they love the feel of the new area so much that we have had to request that they keep their shoes on!"

Mr Youldon
Cullercoats Primary School, Tyne and Wear

"The new surface has transformed our P.E. lessons and playtimes. For the first time ever, we have a surface that is marked-out and accessible. The surface has made a huge impact on how we plan and deliver the curriculum, as well as being a great success with our children."

Mrs Edwards
St George's Church of England
Primary School, Birmingham

"It's fantastic that we now have the opportunity to give our children a safe, stimulating and creative environment in which to play. We have made many improvements to the inside of our school and now we will be able to use the outside area to help deliver the curriculum."

Helen Middleton
John Randel School, Telford

"We are delighted with our new playground. It not only provides an improved playing area, but also delivers a safer, brighter outdoor environment for everyone at school to enjoy. The surface is a massive hit with pupils, parents, staff and teachers alike!"

Richard Vowles
Coleraine Park Primary School, London

1. Imagination

Children can contribute to the design of the surface, using colours and games whilst exploring and using their senses to create new impressions and experiences.

7. Life

Life gives children the opportunity to grow socially, emotionally and physically. Learning is best achieved when it is fun, stimulating and in challenging surroundings.

2. Playing

Participation in sports is essential for the physical and social development of our children. Play is all about challenge and discovery in an environment where children want to learn.

3. Trust

Life brings innovation to the art and design of playgrounds. Working with the Youth Sport Trust, the Life concept represents the latest sports and social initiatives.

4. Friendship

Life transforms the playground into a versatile resource that allows children to play and interact with others, promoting friendships and team-working.

Together
we'll make Life an adventure

6. Pride

Life embeds positive beliefs and values in school children at an early age. Pupils take pride in the school and its role within the local community.

5. Leadership

The role of a teacher is a high pressure one. TigerTurf helps teachers to structure and diversify outdoor learning, whilst over-achieving Ofsted assessments.
