Case study

Waterloo Station Cycle parking solution

When we said we could fit 322 Cycles onto this relatively small area of ground, Network Rail were sold by the proposal immediately. Not only did Streetsure come up with a detailed layout plan which 'fitted the bill' within 2 days, but they were also getting a quality, secure, very tidy and highly functional cycle parking system.

- No more messy cycle parking areas...
with channels to support the bike in an upright position.
- No more damaged bikes...
with our well spaced parking positions and anti scratch guards.
- No more fears about security...
with our security Brace frame and security fixings.

The enhanced, double-decker cycle storage facilities have increased the number of spaces at Britain's busiest station from 212 to 534. This latest Government investment follows similar schemes at Liverpool Street and Euston and takes the number of new cycle spaces provided at major London terminus stations to over 500 within the last year.

Streetsure managed the project from design right through to completion, including post contract maintenance.
