

Environmental Policy

Novograp Ltd is an Employee Owned business and as shareholders we believe passionately in our product and service offering, delivering "Brand Realization" to all our clients with a clear environmental vision. Our commitment to be the best and continuously improve is driven by rigorous business objectives that are clearly communicated to all members of staff and demonstrated through investment and innovation.

As a consumer of raw materials, including energy, and a generator of solid, liquid and gaseous waste. We are committed to a proactive and practical environmental policy delivering measurable improvement in performance.

The primary objectives of our environmental policy are:

The impact of what we do is carefully considered through product design, manufacturing, installation and open collaboration with our clients and suppliers.

In consultation with existing and alternative suppliers we are seeking and assessing alternative materials to replace currently used, but environmentally less friendly, materials.

In order to deliver, wherever it is practical, on these objectives the company has made a number of commitments:

- Commitment to the ISO 14001:2015 standard.
- Thorough examination of our activities and their impact on the environment.
- Objectives and targets are established and updated as part of continual environmental improvement.
- Regular auditing of performance and emissions.
- To adhere with both legal requirements and other requirements through regular consultation with regulatory bodies to ensure compliance and up to date knowledge of standards. It is always our objective to strive to exceed any regulatory standards.
- Consultation with suppliers, customers and employees to promote our environmental policy.
- All major suppliers and sub-contractors are informed of our policy and similar environmental standards are encouraged from them.
- Re-cycling of packaging and other materials where practicable.
- On-going initiatives to reduce waste at all levels of the organization (Solar Power, LED Lighting, Waste management).
- Commitment of adequate resources, both human and financial, to implement and maintain this policy.
- It is our intention to continue to design and develop products and processes in line with this policy.
- This environmental policy statement will be available to access from our company website.

The Novograp Environmental Policy has been developed and approved by the company's management and has their full commitment.
