

THE FIRST SIGN OF BUSINESS

Your office is the hub of your business. Clients who visit you will often gauge the quality and stature of your organisation from its professional presentation. Staff spend much of their lives there, so they need space to work with proper attention given to their health, safety and comfort. For those responsible for office design and implementation, signage must always maintain the integrity of a building and brand without overspending or overrunning.

Whether creating a first impression for your clients or a lasting one for your people, the right signage for your office can powerfully communicate your business.

So perhaps you should first communicate with Signs Express.

Your business

Signage is often a reflection of the premises or the finishing touch after a refurbishment. Internal and external signage is a powerful way of promoting your name, communicating what the business is to potential customers and creating first impressions.

At Signs Express, we use our expertise to enhance your office by innovative use of design and technology. We use our experience to combine creativity with consistency both inside and outside your building. Our expertise ensures we deliver you signage that re-energises your office, re-invigorates your brand and creates a rewarding environment for all.

Create a lasting impression.

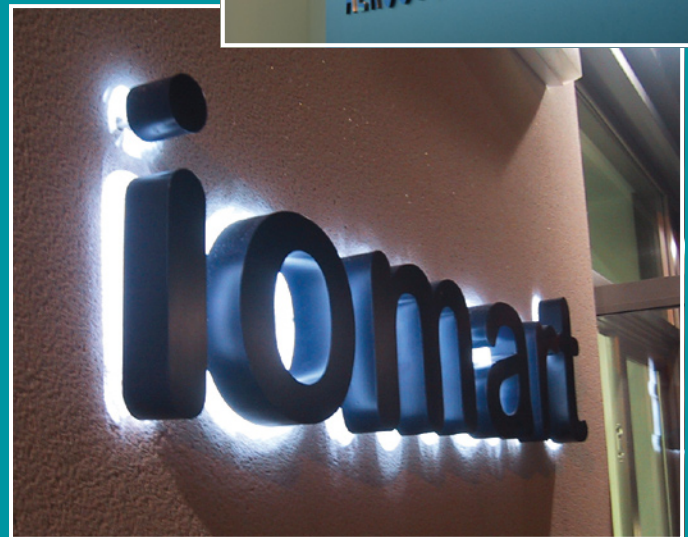

Your opportunity

Office signage is as flexible as it is fundamental for the entire journey through your business. Fascia boards and entrance signs set the tone and achieve standout in a crowded marketplace.

Your reception area can be made vibrant and welcoming with displays, plaques and banners.

Your directional signage system should be clear and efficient with Health and Safety signage that guides and protects staff. From exciting exhibition displays, graphics for windows to sales cars, signage that's temporary or permanent, Signs Express can create your perfect office package.

But we also recognise your need for practical support through good service. You are always under time pressure - so we will allocate a project manager to keep the project on schedule and on budget. We want to offer clients outstanding value so look for innovative ways to bring you creativity and style at a price you can afford.

Your specification

Ask any member of staff and they will always believe their office is different from any other. Its location, atmosphere, layout and customer type will all be unique. Your signage needs and applications will be just as individual, requiring highly tailored solutions.

Signs Express reflects this individuality in the way we work with you. From first phone call to after sales service, production process to installation, we make sure our response matches your requirements and exceeds your expectations. Our standards are equally rigid. You receive the same commitment to performance from the simplest door sign to the most complicated totem sign.

Put yourselves in good company

Our experience in all facets of office signage is outstanding. Our design and technical skills are well established. Our staff are highly trained and qualified. Our centre offers local knowledge plus a deep understanding of communication, backed by high quality production and technology.

Most other sign makers would look to make similar claims about their experience and capabilities.

But it's not the way we work in our own offices that make us different.

It's the way we work in yours.
