

Room Unit – User Manual

Applies to models:

CT-PC08

CT-PP08

Room unit programming instructions

Please read through the following instructions before commencing.

To set the room number

1. Press and hold the reset button until step four

2. Press emergency once

3. Press assistance once

4. Let go of the reset button

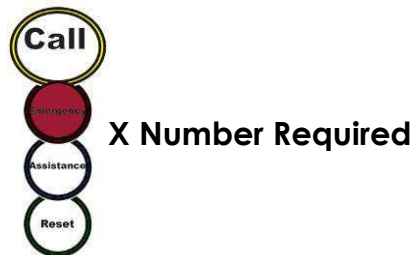

5. Press reset button once

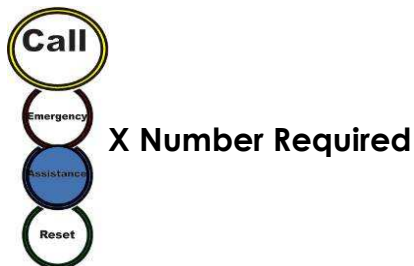

6. Now the unit is in programming mode

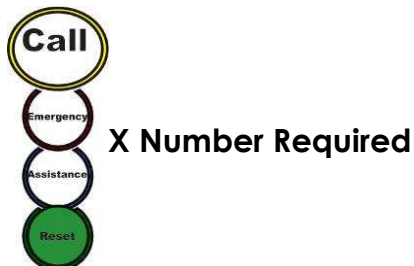

7. To program hundreds, press the Emergency button the required number of times

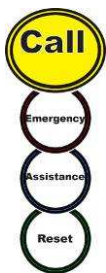

8. For Tens, press the assistance button the required number of times

9. For units, press the reset button the required number of times

10. When the new number is programmed press the yellow call button to store the new number

11. Press reset to clear the unit and it is now ready to work

Example:

To program number 123

After step five,

press emergency once,

assistance twice

and press reset three times = 123

To set the house code

1. Press and hold the reset button until step four

2. Press emergency once

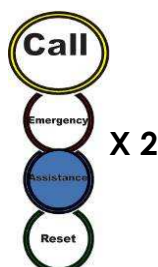

3. Press assistance once

4. Let go of reset

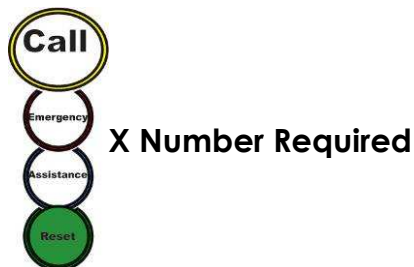

5. Press assistance twice

Trouble Shooting Guide

6. Press reset the number of times required for the house code number E.g. For house code 2, press reset twice

7. Press assistance to store

Room Units:

1. Do calls appear on the display panel when making a call?

No: see below

2. Does the light on the unit flash when making a call?

Yes: See below

No: Replace the batteries and try again

3. Is the display panel receiving calls from other units?

Yes: Solution Bring the faulty unit close to the display panel and make another call. If the call is received by the display panel, replace batteries in unit and try again from original location. If unit does not work from original location, return to our service department.

No: Contact Us

4. Does the unit light flash when a call is made but is still not received by display panel?

The unit has lost its house code and needs to be re coded.

Please refer to previous instructions on how to do this.

If re coding has no effect please contact us.

For any further enquiries please call:

01202 573 300