

For 2013. IP Test Equipment.

QTP Environmental is now able to offer Ingress Protection equipment to UK client.

The need for IP (Ingress Protection) is growing in the UK. Of course many Test House organisations can carry out IP testing but many clients will have a number of test cycles to go through as they steadily rework and refine their design. Going to a test house can be time consuming and expensive.

QTP Environmental are now offering a full range of IP test systems from German manufacturer iTS.

iTS GmbH have been established for many years, their designs include sensible features like removable “drip” orifices so that cleaning is easier, flexible options for drip systems to allow incorporation inside existing chambers, semi automated test cycles etc.

If you need to carry out any of the standard IP tests on a regular basis then an iTS system may well suit your requirement.

Talk to us at QTP Environmental and we will review what is possible.

Stephen Mathews – QTP Environmental