RRI have managed to renovate the traditional artisan and industrial work characteristic of the Trieste Area, by endowing it with renewed vitality, freshness, and a sophisticated taste for (or philosophical approach to) the classic/modern lines and shapes; and by offering collections purposely devised for the contract market, especially for the hospitality and ship building sectors as a whole.

These products have been carefully designed so our clients can create comfortable yet functional lounge areas, with many of the seating collection having their own family of chairs so our clients can create a design which can flow from all areas and give a very professional and considered look and feel.
